

ENERGISE COMPETITION

ARE YOU A BUDDING YOUNG
PHOTOGRAPHER? YOU COULD WIN A GOPRO CAMERA!

Energy is all around us, from the plug points in our homes to the wind generating power in windfarms and the science experiments you do in your classroom.

As part of the Get Energised initiative, The ScottishPower Foundation and National Museums Scotland want to know what the word 'energy' means to you. They've launched a new competition to find a budding photographer who can capture an image that shows energy in action. The lucky winner will get a GoPro camera for their school, and have their photography on display at the National Museum of Scotland!

How do I enter?

All you need to do is submit your photographs (one per student) taken on your mobile phone or on a digital camera. The winner will be the picture that is the most creative, so get your thinking cap on!

Just send your photo by email or post to:
spfoundation@stripecommunications.com or
Team Foundation, Stripe Communications,
86 Commercial Quay, EH6 6LX.

Why not team up with your classmates and see who can get the best shot?

Competition closes on Friday 2 June 2017.

The lucky winner will win a GoPro camera (model) and will have their photograph on display at the National Museum of Scotland in Edinburgh for one month.

The competition is open to all Scottish school students aged 9 to 14.
